

Culinary Delights at Skills Centre

Students of Sittingbourne Community College's Skills Centre delivered an amazing evening with 39 parents and important guests enjoying a 3 course meal, cooked and served by the students themselves.

Guests were treated to an a la carte menu which included fresh ingredients, homemade bread, pasta and ice cream.

"The evening was a huge success," said Oliver Ross, organiser of the event and Head of Catering & Hospitality. "The guests left asking when the next event would take place!" He also added, "This is the first time we have put together this sort of showcasing of our work and the students clearly demonstrated the Skills Centre is a centre of quality learning."

Student (Johnny Finch), added, "it is a lot more demanding serving customers to order; we really understood the pressure of a real life restaurant."
